Drive Me Crazy By Terra Elan McVoy

A tween rivalry-turned-friendship story bursting with humor and heart—perfect for fans of Lisa Graff and Lynda Mullaly Hunt.

Lana and Cassie have met only once before, at the wedding of Lana’s Grandpa Howe and Cassie’s Grandma Tess two months ago. The two girls couldn’t be more different, and they didn’t exactly hit it off—but they’re about to spend an entire week together for their grandparents’ honeymoon, road-tripping from California to Maine in the backseat of a Subaru.

It’s going to be a disaster.

Told in alternating chapters between Cassie and Lana, Drive Me Crazy shows that even though friendship can be a bumpy road, it just might change your life for the better.

Editorial Review

From School Library Journal

Gr 6–8—Two months ago, Lana's Grandpa Howie married Cassie's Grandma Tess (Nonno). The girls didn't quite hit it off, but as they're accompanying their grandparents on their California road trip honeymoon, Lana hopes that they'll soon be great friends. Cassie, on the other hand, just wants to get through the trip as best as possible. She quickly realizes that maybe Lana isn't so bad, and they begin a tentative friendship. Both girls are struggling emotionally: Lana is pretending that her mother's recent health issues are not bothering her, and Cassie is obsessed with keeping the popular kids as her friends. Eventually, the girls have to face their own truths: Cassie's friends are not really her friends, and Lana's mother is seriously ill. A spur of the moment trip to Maine to catch a Magic Moment finally allows the protagonists to understand what each is dealing with and solidify their friendship. Problems are relatively easily dealt with, and the messages of true friendship and communication will resonate with many readers. VERDICT Despite some heavy topics, this is a lighthearted road trip story with a lot of middle school appeal.—Kefira Phillipe, Nichols Middle School, Evanston, IL

Review

“A trek across the continent evolves into a journey of personal growth in this affecting book.” (Kirkus)

“Two very different girls in a car together with show tunes and wacky pit stops plus lots of desert make for a pretty sweet friendship story. Steer this towards fans of Lisa Graff’s Umbrella Summer and those drawn to books with plenty of heart.” (Booklist)

“A lighthearted road trip story with a lot of middle school appeal.” (School Library Journal)

From the Back Cover

Buckle up . . .

Lana and Cassie have met only once before, at the wedding of Lana's Grandpa Howe and Cassie's Grandma Tess two months ago. They didn't exactly hit it off—in fact, depending on who you ask, that first meeting was either an embarrassment or a disaster—but they're about to spend an entire week together, just the two of them and their honeymooning grandparents, road-tripping in Cassie's grandmother's Subaru.

Lana thinks a summer road trip sounds like fun, but the backseat is a crowded place for two twelve-year-old girls with two huge secrets to hide, and this bumpy road to friendship is full of unexpected twists and turns. Like it or not, they're in this together, full speed ahead on the adventure of a lifetime.
